

Write More Publications

---

Theresa Oliver-Owner
7729 Indian Ridge Trail North
Kissimmee, FL 34747
407-388-5893
407-396-9606

For Immediate Release

Contact: Theresa Oliver
Write More Publications
407-388-5893
407-396-9606
writemorepublications@gmail.com

Jennifer Paquette
212-861-6363
jipaquette@cs.com

Mother and Son Writing Duo's First Book: The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) Now Available

KISSIMMEE, Fla.: Publisher Write More Publications has released mother and son writing duo's first book, The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians), by: Jennifer Paquette and Nicholas Perrotti, which is now available on Amazon.com, Amazon.co.uk, Barnes and Noble, Smashwords, and throughout the world.

The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) takes on the gods of Greek Mythology in a unique way that has never been done before. The first book in the series, The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians), explains the Bermuda Triangle and the part that the Greek gods of Olympus had in it. In their debut novel, the authors lead the reader to the mysterious depths of the Earth. Paquette and Perrotti have woven the gods and goddesses into a riveting tale to explain the modern day phenomenon. The 12 Olympians are featured within the book, as well as some other not so familiar favorites from traditional myths. The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) is the first in the series and sets the stage for upcoming fictional tales based on Greek mythology. The books are both entertaining and educational.

Paquette and Perrotti are a mother and son writing team and The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) is their first creation in their series. Their own Greek heritage helped to inspire them to write about the Greek gods, but they wanted to do something that had never been done before. Paquette's then 14-year old-son, Nicholas, was reading a very famous popular mythology series and suggested to his mother that she write something like it. Energized by his enthusiasm, Paquette began to jot down some ideas, which were immediately shot down by Perrotti, telling her that it has already been done before. They began to collaborate and soon The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) was born. They have become a proficient writing team and look forward to writing other books in the series.

Synopsis: Zeus is at it again and his latest trollop, Hecate, the Goddess of Magic, pays the price. Hera, Zeus' wife, banishes her to Agnostos—The Triangle of the Unknown—the only place on earth where the gods of Olympus have no power. Once imprisoned, Hecate stumbles upon a gateway to the center of the earth, and uses her discovery to bargain her way out of Agnostos. But the night after the Council meeting to decide Hecates fate, Athena is visited by a Titan who reveals the real story of the mysterious portal hidden beneath the waters of Agnostos. A god more powerful than the Olympians await them at the Earth's core. To maintain their status as supreme rulers of Olympus, five gods must enter the abyss and fight this unknown god. Can the gods of Olympus learn to work together and save the Earth?

Author Biography:

Jennifer Paquette grew up in Smithtown, New York, and now lives in New York City with her husband, John, and two fabulous teenage sons, John and Nicholas. Jennifer's love for reading and writing stories is boundless. Jennifer studied Mass Communication at Boston University and has a career in advertising with Finlay Fine Jewelry and American Express. Since the birth of her children almost 17 years ago, she has worked for her husband, a plastic surgeon. Her published and soon-to-be-published works include The Haircut, Kiss of Eris, Kiss of the Mer-Zombie and most recently, The Awakening of Agnostos, a very special mythology story that she wrote with her son Nicholas. Other projects include a medical thriller novel, a memoir written with her mother, a vault of short stories on motherhood, a real-people's cookbook and lots more. She hopes her humor, storytelling craft and art of fine details and descriptions are what her readers enjoy most.

Nicholas Perrotti was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and now lives in New York City with his mother, father and older brother. He is currently attending Stuyvesant High School and is entering his junior year. He has an undying love for good books, mythology, movies, art and architecture. He also assisted his mother, Jennifer Paquette, in writing their first novel, The Awakening of Agnostos.

Reviews:

"Not only do I love the cover of this book, I love the book itself. I took a mythology class in college a couple of months ago and hated it. It was so boring but this book is amazing! It made the myth gods so much more interesting than the textbook versions! I was a little unsure at first about reading it, but I gave it a shot and was truly amazed. The writers of this book brought to life the ancient myths and made such an interesting story that leaves you begging for more."

~ Ashlea Burns
Amazon.com

The Awakening of Agnostos (Myths of the Olympians) Press Release, p. 3 of 3

“I just finished reading this book and it is fantastic! The story is so much fun! I don’t know a lot about Greek Mythology, but I loved the way it was told here! My daughter said that the mythology was quite accurate, as well! I didn’t love Hera at first, but toward the end of the book, I was feeling a connection with her and started to really like her. And the cliffhanger at the end left me wanting more! I’m excited for the next book to come out!”

*~Rebecca Lovell
Amazon.com*